WELCOME

Good afternoon everyone and welcome! We're so glad you're here to share this special moment with The Firelands Symphony Orchestra and Chorale. Your presence means so much to us. Whether you've been with us all season or this is your first concert, thank you for being part of our musical community and for supporting the arts in such a meaningful way.

Tickets are on sale now for our annual May fundraiser, A Star Spangled Evening, being held on Thursday, May 14th at The WinErie in Sandusky. Go to www.firelandssymphony.com for more information.

In just a couple of short weeks, we will be making our way to Carnegie Hall in New York City to perform Fauré's Requiem. This performance will be on Sunday, June 21st and tickets are available at the Carnegie Hall box office.

It's hard to believe this is the final concert of our season, and what a journey it's been. Your enthusiasm, encouragement, and support have made every performance more rewarding for our musicians and singers. We're truly grateful to have you with us tonight as we celebrate the close of this season together and we hope you'll join us again for more music in the seasons to come.

Enjoy the concert!

PODIUM NOTES

The magic of a Broadway musical lies in its unique ability to take amazing storytelling with melody, harmonies, movement, and create amazing transcendent experiences. No other form of entertainment, at least that I know of, touches an audience like a theatrical production. There is a captivating energy that happens when the theatre lights dim, the stage becomes bright, the first notes of the overture build, and a journey between the performers and the audience begins. Whether it be the clever lyrics of an emotional solo ballad or the energetic surge of a full-cast production number, musicals capture the human experience with an intensity that transforms the stage into a space where spectacle meets intimacy, leaving audiences with tunes that linger in their minds for years and a renewed sense of wonderment and ideals are held in hearts and minds long after the final curtain.

For over 100 years Broadway has become a beacon in leading entertainment. So many of the shows created for the stage have grown beyond to become hits on the silver screen, featured concert numbers, beloved recordings by various artists, and so on. From the entrance of Jazz and Tin Pan Alley at the turn of the 20th Century, to the blend of Hip Hop and Pop music in the 21st Century, the Broadway musical has always been at the forefront of the then and now, the past meeting the present, and the dream of starting here and flying into the future. While we could do an entire week of concerts celebrating all the various aspects of musical theatre, we have paired it down to just a quick glimpse of the music that has brought us joy, sadness, humor, intrigue, hope, and love throughout the years.

Through the Symphony Chorale and Chamber Orchestra, our host William Barrett, and some very special guests, we find that with a little storytelling, a whole lot of creativity, and some pure imagination, anything can happen on the golden stage!

Thank you for joining us and we hope you enjoy the show!

Michael Shirtz, Chorale Director and Conductor

William Barrett (host) is a hard working, well-known person that keeps achieving his goals, from the stage to the streets and back. A few of his achievements include starring in shows such as Into the Woods, Art, Voices of Freedom, among others, and recently serving as the narrator for productions of "To Rise Above: A Story of A Tuskegee Airman," about pilot Col. Harold Brown, as well as narrating the Chorale's Thanksgiving Concerts. In addition to the arts, Barrett has served as an assistant track coach and head cross country coach, running half and full marathons, including the famed NYC, and being an example for his loyalty and commitment as his greatest attributes.
